The officer at the door immediately gave the alarm, and the few moments lost by the mob in untying the horses gave the others time to understand the situation, and the rescuers were fired upon. They returned the fire, and for some minutes a promiscuous shooting was kept up, and several on both sides were seriously wounded. The director of the Lyceum states that inasmuch as a number of representative Democrats have come into the Lyceum and made open declarations to the effect that the Democrat party was the true Workingman's party, and that too at a time when no such subject was under discussion; he therefore recognized the necessity of again taking up the subject, and hoped he will be more successful this time in the matter of hearing from the affirmative side of the question.
